Amsterdam, The Netherlands, March 8th, 2010

The Philippine subsidiary “Curcas Oil Philippines Inc.” is making great progress with the integration of the existing plantations of its partners. In the first two months of this year, contracts with various local farmers, which own over 2,500ha of planted plantations, have been notarized. Generally, the trees have a maturity of 2-3 years.

The filters and squeezer ordered for the pilot phase are ready for delivery from the German manufacturer Osnabrücker Ölmühlen GmbH and will be shipped to the point of destination in the Philippines shortly. The commencement of the pilot phase is scheduled for April. The purchase of jatropha seeds in small amounts from the contracted farmers has already commenced.
